CONGRESS WANTS PEACE REPUBLICANS IN SESSION

PARTY OF THE PEOPLE.

Grand Record Has Been Made By Republicans.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 6.—The National Republican League is in session here today. The report of the Resolutions Committee was presented as follows:

"The National Republican League in biennial convention assembled in the city of Indianapolis, October 5 and 6, hereby ratifies the platform of the Republican party adopted by the National Convention at Chicago June 22, 1904, and endorses the Hon. Theodore Roosevelt of New York, nominated therein for President, and the Hon. Charles W. Fairbanks of Indiana, nominated thereon for Vice-President.

THE RECORD.

"Full three months have elapsed since the representatives of both great parties made their profession of faith and their declaration of principle. The people have been made acquainted with the record and achievements of the Republican party and its standard-bearers, and they have listened to the criticisms and pretensions of the opposition. On every hand it has been shown that the Republican administration has accomplished much and labored long for the welfare of the people's industrial and commercial relations at home and abroad; on the other hand, it has been argued by the representatives of Democracy that while the country has prospered and good has come to the people in domestic and material advantages, it has been due more to Democratic opposition than to Republican advancement. The burden of proof against the party in power has been wholly with

HE COULD NOT CRITICISE.

BISHOP POTTER WAS EXEMPT FROM ATTACK OF DEPUTY.

BOSTON, October 6.—In the House of Deputies, J. Cameron Buxton, a lay deputy from Winston, N. C., attempted to introduce a resolution criticising Bishop Potter of New York for participating in the opening of the Subway Tavern in New York City, but he was ousted by a point of order, which sustained that the House of Deputies could not criticise a member of the House of Bishops.

At noon the House of Bishops adjourned and escorted the Archbishop of Canterbury into the chamber of the House of Deputies, where the Archbishop addressed the combined bodies.

COMPANIES COMBINE FOR CARRYING COTTON.

LONDON, October 6.—Manchester's fight for a diversion of a portion of Liverpool's cotton trade from America has resulted, according to a statement published today, in an arrangement with the Leyland line and the Manchester line, limited, of Manchester, whereby the two companies will combine for the purpose of carrying cotton cargoes direct from New Orleans to Manchester.

PARAMOUNT ISSUE CONCERNS FAMILY

RT. REV. RANDALL THOMAS DAVIDSON, ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY.

Archbishop Says to Safeguard the Men, Women and Children of America.

BOSTON, October 6.—When the House of Deputies of the Episcopal Church assembled to-day, there was a large attendance of visitors in anticipation of the presence of Archbishop of Canterbury, who yesterday announced that he would deliver a message to the American church.

MESSAGE OF GREETING.

The convention has appointed a committee to frame a message of greeting to the International Peace Congress, some of whose delegates are also delegates in the church convention. One of these is Robert Treat Payne, president of the peace meeting.

The triennial conference of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions was formally opened to-day. Later the Woman's Auxiliary held a largely attended missionary meeting in Tremont Temple. Among the speakers were Bishop McKim of Tokyo; Brent of the Philippine Islands and Johnson of Western Texas.

The House of Bishops continued its sessions behind closed doors.

ARCHBISHOP'S ADDRESS.

The Archbishop of Canterbury delivered an address as follows:

"I come to tell you of the absorbing interest with which we in England watch your gathering strength, your constantly increasing use of the apparently boundless opportunities which are multiplying daily to your hands and of our fellowship in your prayers for the spirit of wisdom and understanding, of counsel and of strength.

THE PROBLEMS.

"Your problems are not all of them our problems. Anyhow, this at least is certain, that beneath them all we find an underlying element in which is absolutely common to us both. Among them is the temptation common to ecclesiastic, lay and clerical in every clime and in every century, the temptation to give 'means' rather than 'ends' the main place in our thoughts, the temptation to lose the true proportion between large matters and small, the temptation to take a petty view of what life's issues really are. It seems to me the paramount necessity of all is that which concerns the family and the home, the common work day life, that is, of the Christian people as a large.

THE HOME.

"It would be vain to ignore the warning voices which tell us—on either side of the sea—of a certain decadence in the differently religious life of the ordinary home—a falling off, that is in the very force which gave its distinctive inspiration and its distinctive power to so much of our grand-sires' life.

"If that be true, it surely behooves every gathering of churchmen to consider well what they can do to safeguard the men and women and above all the children of America and of England from a peril whose gravity it is impossible to over-estimate, because it affects the very foundation of our Christian life."

FEARS SHE MAY BE KILLED.

Mrs. Freda Nelson Asks Protection of her Father.

Living in deadly fear of Charles Nelson, her husband, Freda Nelson, a head saleswoman at the Eastern Outfitting Company, is obliged to call into requisition the services of her father, R. Tepper, as an escort to and from her work, night and morning. Spectators wonder at the daily trip of the old man and the pretty girl, but few know her story.

Daily the comely German girl walks thus guarded, fearful that at any moment Charles Nelson, from whom she has brought suit for divorce, will attempt her life.

That the woman's fears are well grounded seems to be proved by a sensational scene which took place in a resort on Fourteenth street last Saturday night, when Nelson followed his wife into the place, and was on a prevented from doing her violence by the interference of patrons of the place.

A big crowd gathered when Mrs. Nelson fled for shelter from her husband's menacing pursuit, and at that time the young woman evidently decided that she could not take the chance of meeting Nelson on the street alone. Then it was that the father's services were utilized.

Mrs. Nelson is remembered by hundreds of Oaklanders as the pretty German girl who for years acted as assistant in her father's pleasure resort in Fruitvale. Tepper's garden constituted a meeting place for those who loved quiet and a bit of refreshing liquid served in an inviting spot.

Freda Tepper was a universal favorite then, and had she married some "honest Dutch burgher," as might reasonably have been expected, her fate would have been far happier. She wedded Charles Nelson, whom no one seemed to know, and thought the patrons of Tepper's place wished her happiness, their wishes were powerless to bring that boon.

Her life with Nelson became unbearable and on September 21 she brought suit for divorce through Attorney John S. De Lancey, alleging failure to provide. The suit is now pending.

LIKE THE PROGRAM.

ST. PETERSBURG, October 6 (10:51 a. m.)—The zemstvos throughout Russia are acclaiming the program enunciated by Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky, the new Minister of the Interior. Among the many telegrams he has received is the following from the zemstvos of Nizhni Novogorod:

"The zemstvos greet your highness in the firm conviction that the program proclaimed by you will convince the people of your good will and that they may impose implicit trust in your attitude toward communal institutions and the extension of their sphere of usefulness. The zemstvos will insure the peaceful movement of Russia along the road of progress."

ARMIES ARE QUIET.

MUKDEN, October 6.—The main forces of both armies remain quiet, but the scouts are active. On Tuesday a Cossack detachment had a short but sharp brush with some Japanese dragoons near the Yentai mines. The Japanese lost four men killed and had two captured. They then fled.

KUROPATKIN IS AT THE PASS

GENERAL NOGI, THE JAPANESE COMMANDER BESIEGING PORT ART HUR.

Sudden Activity is Apparent in the Streets of Mukden—On the Skirmish Line.

Only outpost affairs are reported in to-day's dispatches from Manchuria. The main armies remain quiet, but the scouts on both sides continue very active. This activity is construed in St. Petersburg as confirming the general belief that Kuropatkin's main army is safely at Tie pass. A dispatch from Mukden, dated late this afternoon, says that a sudden activity is apparent, large numbers of carts and pack animals crowding the streets, but offers no explanation of the battle.

A GREAT BUSTLE.

MUKDEN, October 6 (5:30 p. m.)—Something unusual is in the wind. A great bustle is now noticeable.

The streets are crowded with hurrying crowds and innumerable carts and pack mules.

SKIRMISHING.

ST. PETERSBURG, October 6 (6:26 p. m.)—Nothing beyond skirmishing between advance posts is reported from the front. The Russian cavalry seem to be pressing reconnaissances southward toward Yentai. On Tuesday some Russian scouts ran into a squadron of Japanese consisting of four companies at Hunlipou and were forced back until reinforced by cavalry who flanked the Japanese driving them back on Tadousampo with considerable loss. The same evening the Russians approached to within three miles of the coal mines, repulsing four squadrons and three companies of Japanese. There the Russians withdrew with the loss of one Cossack killed and one wounded. Two Japanese dragoons were captured.

The activity along the outposts is considered to confirm the general belief that the bulk of General Kuropatkin's army is at Tie Pass. A report from Mukden says preparations for winter quarters are being made, adding that semi-subterranean huts are being constructed for the men stationed about the city. These are described as being warm and comfortable. The same report says the Japanese are suffering from privations, cold and hunger.

A Che Foo special declares the Japanese squadron must have been damaged during the great storm which has been raging in the Yellow Sea.

MINOR AFFAIR.

ST. PETERSBURG, October 6.—General Sakharoff reports that all was quiet October 4 with the exception of the brush on that day between a Cossack detachment and some Japanese dragoons near the Yentai mines, and a minor affair at Hulipou, where after being driven by the Japanese, the Russian outpost was reinforced and caused the Japanese to fall back after sharp fighting to the station at Tadousampo. The Japanese sustained considerable losses. Those of the Russians are not stated.

PEACE IS THEIR ISSUE.

Congress at Boston Pleased Over the New Treaties.

BOSTON, October 6.—At the re-assembling today of the International Peace Congress, Judge Alexander of England, chairman of the Committee on Treaty Arbitrations, presented a detailed statement of answers received from various countries to questions sent out by the bureau at Berne on the development of the treaty movement in the several nations. Almost all powers reported new treaties or additional treaties under way. The following resolutions were then read for passage:

CONGRESS PLEASED.

"The congress records its lively satisfaction at the signature of permanent and obligatory treaties since its last session between France and Great Britain; Great Britain and Italy; France and Italy; France and Spain; Great Britain and Spain; Spain and Portugal; Denmark and The Netherlands; Great Britain and Germany; Sweden and Norway and France; Sweden and Norway and Great Britain.

"The congress congratulates the governments of these various countries on having thus taken important further steps in the path of judicial relations between nations opened by The Hague convention. It trusts that the examples thus given will shortly be followed by many other powers.

ARBITRATION.

"The congress especially rejoices at the statement recently made by the President of the United States that his government is taking steps to secure arbitration treaties with all governments who are willing to enter upon them and trusts that many such treaties will soon be concluded.

"The congress also especially congratulates the governments of Denmark and The Netherlands on having entered into a treaty of arbitration containing no reserves whatever and commends this as a model for all future treaties.

HAGUE COURT.

"The congress, noting with satisfaction that the different States are more and more introducing arbitration clauses into their various treaties and especially in treaties of commerce, urges on the governments that in future that clause should refer to The Hague court all conflicts that may arise out of the interpretation of these treaties.

"This congress heartily endorses the recommendation made by joint resolution of both houses of the Massachusetts Legislature in favor of an international congress to meet at stated periods to deliberate upon questions of common interest to the nations and to make recommendations thereon to the governments."

HE WAS FRIEND IN NEED

W. H. Smith Stands E
Mrs. Sarah
Graves.

Mr. Sarah Graves, who attempted to commit suicide last Monday was removed from the Receiving Hospital to the Providence Hospital this morning, Doctor Emerson stating that she was sufficiently recovered to permit to change.

The arrangements were supervised by W. H. Smith, the neighbor who accused by his wife in a divorce complaint of undue intimacy with Mrs. Graves. He talked to Mrs. Graves today for the first time since her attempt at suicide. He has repeatedly called on the hospital but the doctors' condition has been such neither was a make consultation with him impossible. He refused to say this morning what his plans are with reference to his wife's case. He is now accompanying her to the Providence Hospital.

Smith gave to a TRIBUNE reporter today the first interview with reference to the case that has been secured, saying:

"There is absolutely no truth in the story that Mrs. Graves' condition is the result of dependency or despair. She has never been in the least depressed, had with her since she came to this hospital, that she did not attempt to kill herself and has no remembrance of any of the events that followed."

To this question Smith replied: "I was, I do not care to say at all whether or not she had been there last night," he was asked.

"Not in any such condition then," would indicate her intention to commit suicide.

"I found her on Monday afternoon in her home lying on the floor at the foot of the bed in her night robes. She felt very warm, and the room smelled like the fumes of kerosene."

"When did Graves leave his home?" was asked of Smith.

"He left Mrs. Graves the latter part of last week," replied Smith.

"Did you see her since?"

The hospital authorities have not yet received an answer to the letter sent to Graves yesterday, in which it was intimated that his wife and range for her care.

THACKERAY COUPLET.

This discovery was made by Grand Recorder Spencer, who induced a member of the A. O. U. W. to offer himself as a canvasser to a certain life insurance company to work specially among A. O. U. W. members. The man was received with open arms and was given the names of the members, whom he finally induced to take out policies. This was gratifying to the insurance officers, who told the canvasser that they would furnish him with a big list of members of the order. The canvasser finally got sufficient information to cause Spencer to suspect that the subject was in the office of the official organ of the A. O. U. W.

BARNES EMBARRASSED.

This was embarrassing to Publisher Barnes, who is one of the most respected members of the order, and who denied all knowledge of the perfidy.

Brother Barnes was informed, however, that the guilty one was supposed to be the mailing clerk of his paper.

Grand Recorder Spencer, in speaking about this part of the treachery, said:

SPENCER'S EXPOSE.

"This mailing clerk was under contract with Brother Barnes. We requested Brother Barnes to produce this party in the Grand Recorder's office at 3 p. m. on a certain day. We had in the meantime been advised that the suspect was about to leave for the East on the morning train. He did not appear at all in a hour, the suspect appeared, and in the presence of D. S. Hirschberg, formerly grand recorder and an ex-resident of Oakland, and myself he was accused of having sold our lists to a certain insurance company. The first he denied, the company contradicted."

that the election of officers would be the first business. The names of President J. Hampton Moore, of Philadelphia; Scott Bonham, of Chicago; and W. G. McFaulch, of Chicago, were placed before the convention. The nominating speeches displayed some feeling, many of them being critical in reference to the administration of President Moore. The ballot resulted as follows: Scott Bonham, 267 2-3; McFaulch, 249 2-3. On motion of Scott Bonham, seconded by W. G. Edens, of Chicago, a vote of 100 in favor of Moore was declared unanimous.

understood. He thanked his friends and neighbors for their forbearance, assurance of his wish to preserve their content and peace, and promised that, so far as the dogs were concerned, it should be even as they desired. The kennel would be abolished.

All of which explains why there is merely the memory of a McNear kennel on Linden street, and also why swine pervades the section when darkness settles down upon the city. Incidentally, Mr. McNear is considered by neighbors to have demonstrated that there are people who have every regard for the peace and comfort of their fellow men, contrary to the reputation of a tribe of money kings so often earned.

CORRUPTION RUNS RIOT ACROSS BAY.

Ex-Mayor James D. Phelan Denounces Certain Men Now in Power.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 6.—Ex-Mayor James D. Phelan has issued the following sensational statement:

"I have learned sufficient while I was away from traveling San Franciscans and I have heard sufficient since I have returned to justify me in saying that no city in the United States has reached the same degree of administrative disrepute as San Francisco. In St. Louis and Philadelphia and Chicago, the rottenness existed in the local Legislature, but with us, happily, the majority of the Board of Supervisors are honorable and loyal representatives of the people.

"The insolent and brazen violations of the Charter and the law are past belief and the citizens surely will awaken to the revolting conditions and apply the remedy which is in their hands.

"It is had for me to realize that a city which gave birth to the Vigilance Committee, the Public Defense Association and the Non-Partisan and Charter movements, which evidenced so much civic pride and virtue, can tolerate the infamous gang which now sits in places of power in certain Boards and Commissions.

"The ballot box frauds are the most serious symptom of the evil days upon which we have fallen. Every hope of preserving our institutions and protecting the life and property of our citizens rests on the purity of the ballot box. That is the fundamental thing.

"If political bandits under the protection of officials are allowed to defeat the voice of the people at elections by fraudulent voting and other crimes against the elective franchise then every constitutional remedy is taken out of our hands, every householder is deprived of his rights, every citizen is despoiled of his property and the Government reduced to a contest of corruption, force and fraud.

"I see that some of the ballot box stuffers are being vigorously prosecuted and that the Election Commission has been taken to book. There is enough civic virtue left in San Francisco to right these wrongs. Of that I am confident, and I trust the remedy will be soon applied.

GERMAN DAY AT THE FAIR.

Emperor William Sends Message to St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 6.—Germans from all parts of America assembled on the World's Fair grounds today to celebrate German day, in commemoration of the landing of the first Germans on American soil on October 6, 1693.

Exercises were held at the German national pavilion, where addresses were delivered by Dr. Emil Pretorius of St. Louis, the Baron of Sternberg, the German ambassador; Dr. Theodore Lewald, the Imperial German commissioner; Hon. Carl Schurz, and others.

Baron Speck von Sternberg was introduced by Dr. Emil Pretorius and spoke in part as follows: "America owes her astonishing rise in a large measure to German virtues as frequently announced from the lips of America's foremost men.

"You are all aware of the warm interest the German Emperor takes in your life and doings. The splendid monument of German accomplishment and knowledge created by him shines as one of the principal gems among the dazzling treasures of this exhibition. It proclaims that both the German fatherland and your American adopted country have produced similar great things in their astonishing development.

"His Majesty, the Emperor, requested me to announce the following message to you: 'I convey my Imperial greetings and congratulations to those countless citizens of America whose wish it has been that the World's Fair at St. Louis should not pass by without the celebration of a German day.

"May this glorious day be celebrated in unmarred rejoicings and stand as a worthy testimonial of the important part played by the German emigrant in the wonderful development of the great trans-Atlantic Republic.

Gray's application was filed here on August 22, he stating at the time that Mrs. Harrigan's estate consisted of personal property, the value of which was not known to him. There are no known heirs.

There will be vocal and instrumental music. Dr. A. S. Kelly will read a paper on vaccination, which will then be discussed by members and others who may desire to express opinion on the subject.

MASKED ROBBER.

Holds Up Six Men in a Grocery and Saloon.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—With a black silk handkerchief to cover his face below the eyes and a revolver to awe those who might do him harm, a lone and well-dressed young robber entered the grocery and saloon, of J. Melner, at 4135 California street, in the Richmond District, at 9:30 last night, and got $31 for his trouble.

Out in that isolated district it was some time before word was conveyed to the police and the hold-up man had ample time in which to escape. Detectives Wren and Dignan hastened to the scene and gathered the facts, but it is doubtful if the young robber will be found, because the victims give poor descriptions and doubters would be unable to identify anybody.

The robber held up six men.

JUDGMENT GIVEN IN PICTURE CASE

A contest in court between rival photographers of Oakland came to a conclusion this morning, when Judge Ogden gave judgment for $15 to Dames and Arrowsmith, in their suit against Belle-Oudry for damages to the sum of $1,150 and costs amounting to $150.

Dames and Arrowsmith alleged in their complaint they had sustained by an action of Belle-Oudry, on July 8, 1903, when Belle-Oudry procured a temporary injunction, restraining Dames and Arrowsmith from using the term, "Photographie Parissienne" in connection with photographic work, which Belle-Oudry alleges amounted to an infringement of Belle-Oudry, in that connection, sued Dames and Arrowsmith for $2000 as damages for the alleged infringement.

The court dissolved the injunction on August 22 and Dames and Arrowsmith then brought suit, which Judge Ogden decided today in favor of the plaintiff. They alleged that Belle-Oudry's suit and certain publications in connection with it damaged them.

WILL RECOGNIZE THIS STATE

Thanks to Edward H. Benjamin and Charles G. Yale of Oakland, this State will come away from the fair with at least some slight recognition from its judges of awards. Neither of the gentlemen are willing to tell all they know of the question of the awards or the way in which the mining exhibit of the State was managed, but private advice from St. Louis tell of the effort which they put forth to secure recognition for California.

Benjamin and Mr. Yale were the only Western men on the international jury of mining awards, and when it came to a question of awards to this State, they stepped forward and did their duty. They did not wish to pass up the merits of their own State's resources. What was the result? The California exhibit had been turned down without a single award.

MRS. ATHERTON COMING HERE

SAN FRANCISCO, October 6.—Mrs. Gertrude Atherton will winer in California. She arrived in New York from Europe today and will proceed to San Francisco. The news will be a genuine surprise to her friends here as it was thought Mrs. Atherton would follow her usual custom of wintering in Munich, where much of her literary work is done. Instead, however, she has suddenly determined to return to California for the purpose of gathering atmosphere in writing a new novel.

VALISE MANIA GOES TO ASYLUM

Charles Lewis, the so-called "valise mania," was examined by Dr. Page and today in Judge Hall's court today and pronounced insane. The court committed Lewis to the Asylum at Agnew. He escaped from the Ukiah Asylum six months ago.

Lewis has a mania for stealing valises. He announces that it is his intention to steal 6000 of them, and he expects to receive one dollar for each one.

In court this morning Lewis discussed, as he did, when questioned by the authorities, his ambitions in the valise stealing line, stating that he regretted the temporary delay in his operations which detention had made necessary, but promised that, once freed, he would resume his task of collecting valises.

WILL BUILD ROAD.

W. J. Schmidt, contractor for the Mines road in the eastern part of the county, leading out of Livermore into the mining section on the county line, will ship tomorrow his outfit with which the work is to be completed. It will include a number of horses and wagons, scrapers and plows and about seven men. The road will be twelve miles in length and every effort will be made to complete it as soon as possible, now that the fact that the rainy season may operate in some measure to retard the work.

SIGNED THROUGH FEAR.

Aged Mrs. Bentley Says She Was Forced to Sign Paper.

Attorney Mitchell, who has the legal business of Mrs. Honora Bentley of Berkeley in charge, announced today that Constable Bert Hempstead had just informed him that James Fitzpatrick, an old man who claims to be Mrs. Bentley's husband by contract marriage, had procured from her, by force, a signed document reflecting seriously upon the character of Mitchell, which document Fitzpatrick apparently possesses to use in the litigation now pending between himself and Mrs. Bentley. Attorney Mitchell said today:

"My client, Mrs. Bentley, has admitted to me that Fitzpatrick secured this defamatory document last week. She says that he induced her to enter a room and while alone, secured her signature to the paper, threatening her bodily harm if she refused to sign it.

"The paper clears Fitzpatrick of charges reflecting upon his character, which have been made, and is prejudicial to myself, Mr. Ennis, attorneys for Mrs. Bentley. What use he intends to make of this document, I do not know.

"There are many sensational features in connection with this litigation which may be revealed in court, but not elsewhere. Mrs. Bentley tells me that in the last week she has attempted three times to secure a warrant for Fitzpatrick's arrest in Judge Quinn's court in connection with this latest attack upon her but that each time Fitzpatrick has intercepted her."

Mrs. Bentley is now suing Fitzpatrick for possession of premises in Berkeley, which they formerly occupied and to which he claims title. He, on the other hand, is suing her to recover $1200 alleged to be due on a promissory note which note she says was obtained by fraud. Both Mrs. Bentley and Fitzpatrick are more than 70 years old.

Attorney Mitchell says he has a lot of letters, written by Fitzpatrick to a Mr. McDaniels in the East, son of a Mrs. Lund of Berkeley at a time when Fitzpatrick was trying to ingratiate himself with Mrs. Lund, an aged and wealthy woman of Berkeley.

TERRACE GARDEN ATTACHED.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 6.—The Terrace Garden, which was opened as a restaurant a little less than a month ago, has been attached. A meeting of the creditors had been called for 4 o'clock this afternoon, but two of the creditors, taking time by the forelock, invoked the aid of Sheriff Curtis in getting the first foot into the garden.

The collapse of the Terrace Garden will come with a shock to nearly all its patrons, and the latter have been numbered among the best people in town. In the short time the terraces and terrapins have been open to the public, business seemed to be very good in the new restaurant, for go there on any evening and you find the majority of the tables taken, upstairs and downstairs.

ROBBERS ARRESTED.

SAN DIEGO, October 6.—At 8:30 o'clock last night two hoboes held up and robbed a man at the Granger corner. At 9 o'clock two men, identified by the proprietor of the corner as the robbers, were arrested in a saloon and are now in jail.

HEAVY SHOWERS.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, October 6.—Heavy thunder and lightning has been followed by heavy showers. The bean crop in many localities will be damaged. New feed is springing up rapidly and stock interests look promising.

FOR CONSOLIDATION.

The Progress Federation will hold a meeting in the Board of Trade rooms this evening for the purpose of discussing consolidation of the principal towns of Alameda county into one municipality, having a central government.

DIVORCE NOT FOR DEAD.

Mother and Sister Fail to Force a Final Decree.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 6.—An important decision was rendered by Judge Hubbard this morning upon a motion made by the mother and sister of Joseph H. Grace, deceased, that a final decree of divorce be issued to the dead man's widow.

The proceeding in court was unique. A year ago last May Amy E. Grace sued her husband for divorce, at that time she was granted an interlocutory decree. Last August, however, Grace died and the final decree of divorce had not been issued at that time. The man left some property and the action just ended was the attempt of Grace's mother and sister to prevent Mrs. Grace from obtaining a wife's share of it.

Attorney Mitchell, representing the mother and sister, asked the court to issue the final decree. His motion was opposed by Mrs. Grace, and her position was sustained by Judge Hubbard, who held that a divorce proceeding interests only the parties to the action and that the interference of other persons cannot be tolerated.

Judge Hubbard today granted a divorce to William L. Bolton from Ida Bolton on the ground of desertion. A suit for divorce was filed by Mrs. Eleanor Ladd against John E. Ladd Jr. on the ground of desertion. The couple were married in San Rafael January 12, 1899, the complaint recites, and lived happily together until January 10, 1901, at which time her husband left. Since that last named date, the couple have not lived together. Mrs. Ladd alleges that her husband earns $200 a month of which she asks $75 alimony, but she does not know just what his source of income is. Ladd was in Hawaii when last heard of.

COOK IS OFF THE TICKET.

MILWAUKEE, Wisconsin, Oct. 6.—Samuel A. Cook of Neenah has withdrawn from the head of the Stalwart Republican State ticket, his successor being former Governor Edward Scofield.

The selection of Scofield will be ratified by the State Central Committee at a special meeting tomorrow. The question of mandamus proceedings to compel Secretary of State Hooper to place the list of Republican electors in both columns was left open pending further investigation by attorneys of the Stalwart factions.

The Stalwarts have determined to remain in the field and are arranged for an active campaign.

STEAMER ON A REEF.

VANCOUVER, B. C., October 6.—During a heavy fog Wednesday night, the steamer Escowt struck a reef on Harborside Island. Fifty passengers were drowned. The crew and 135 passengers were saved. The news of the disaster was brought down to this port today by the steamer Cassiar.

The Escowt was running from Vancouver to Victoria. It had a Columbia port and had on board nearly 200 Indian passengers bound for various settlements up the coast. The passengers were taken ashore and the drowning of the four children occurred in connection with the launching of a small boat.

The Escowt was an old boat owned in Victoria. I isn't a pin-in an' a sign. But did work would seem better, I if a red bird was big as an catfish. An' a possum was big as a cow. —Washington Star.

TONGS ARE AT WAR.

Ten Shots Are Fired and One Chinese Wounded.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—War has been declared between the Chow Yee and So On Sier tongs in Chinatown and murders are likely to occur in that section of the city at any moment.

There is a feeling of restlessness between a few other tongs also, and it would not be surprising if a second declaration of war were made. Only yesterday afternoon one war, which threatened to involve the powerful tongs of the See Yee Society, was averted by the payment of tribute.

Ten shots were fired at 1:30 o'clock this morning to signal the opening of the war between the Chow Yee and So On Sier tongs, both of which belong to the San Yui Society. Toy Poo, a passer-by, received a dangerous bullet wound in the leg, although he is in no way concerned in the trouble between the tongs.

The shots were fired by men from the Chow Yee tong when they were on Jackson street, between Dupont and Stockton streets. They disappeared immediately and before the police could arrive.

CLARK CASE IN COURT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—The case of the United States against Senator William A. Clark was argued today before the Circuit Court of Appeals. It came before this bench on an appeal from the Circuit Court for the District of Montana.

The action is brought to annul eighty-two land grants under which Clark claims title to timber lands within the State of Montana on the ground of alleged frauds committed by the patentees in securing the same. It is charged that the patents were secured under the direction of Robert H. Cobban, who later transferred the land to Clark. Cobban is alleged to have first examined the lands and then hired persons to enter them under the stone and timber act agreeing to pay them for their services to defray all their expenses and furnish the purchase price of the lands.

The lower court held that, on such a state of facts, the innocent purchaser for a valuable consideration, acquired a valid title. The Government took the matter on a writ of error to the Circuit of Appeals.

Dr. Wheeler a Great Traveler

In discussing politics with a Washington reporter President Wheeler of the State University is reported to have said: "I am familiar with the drift of public opinion in the West because I cross the continent six times a year." Dr. Wheeler does travel a good bit, but crossing the continent six times a year is going some. It means a trip every two months. Each of these transcontinental journeys consume three or four weeks time. During his last visit East Dr. Wheeler found time, after attending to the business which took him across the continent, to call on the President and pledge him all the Electoral votes west of Chicago. In addition he made a sub rosa visit to Judge Parker, though what he promised the Democratic candidate has not been given out for publication. Evidently Dr. Wheeler not only believes Presidents should stand together but feels that would-be Presidents should be shown some consideration. Perhaps he may have called on Judge Parker to express his sympathy. But all this aside, why is it necessary for the President of the State University to cross the continent six times a year? What is the important business that calls him so often to Washington and New York? If this is a state secret a good many people would like to be let in on it. There are simple minded folk who are inclined to believe that the place of the head of a great university is at the university and not talking politics in Washington and New York. Perhaps these people would cease to criticize Dr. Wheeler's goings to and fro, up and down the earth if it were gently explained to them why he has to cross the continent six times a year and keep in touch with the political sentiment. It's the mystery that does the mischief. No doubt Dr. Wheeler has good reasons for being continually on the go, and the public would like to learn them. They would also like to know how many times a year President Eliot of Harvard, President Hadley of Yale, President Butler of Columbia and President Angell of Ann Arbor cross the continent. Is this constant journeying a case of Mahomet going to the mountain or the mountain in going to Mahomet? What is Dr. Wheeler canvassing for anyhow? Are the boarded-up windows of the University White House such a painful sight that President Wheeler is compelled to fly East and talk politics to relieve his mind from contemplating their unsightliness? Oh, dear, but it must be hard on a man to be compelled to run a great university and at the same time make six trips a year across the continent. Couldn't the Regents hire a messenger?

The Democrats and Reciprocity

The Democrats of the East continue to blame the Republicans for refusing to enter into reciprocal arrangements with other countries. They clamored loudly for reciprocity with Cuba, but when the test was made in Congress they voted against it. However, a trial of reciprocity with Cuba has not encouraged other experiments in that direction. During the first three months after the treaty went into operation the Cubans increased their imports from the United States only 3 per cent, while those from England, Germany, Spain and France increased 20, 21, 16 and 8 per cent respectively. In a report to the State Department dealing with the question of trade between Cuba and the United States Minister Squires says:

"I never fail to impress upon the President and the Cuban merchants and planters with whom I come in contact the danger to reciprocity in the present uneven trade between the two countries, and that American merchants and manufacturers will not long support an arrangement which largely increases the market for Cuban productions and, by comparison at least, decreases the sale of our own. The situation is pretty well understood, and it will not be difficult to obtain from the Cuban Government a proposition for the admission of goods of American origin on a more favorable basis."

Possibly we may obtain better terms from Cuba in the future, but it must be said that the working of the reciprocity arrangement has thus far proved distinctly unsatisfactory.

But why should the Democrats be taking up Blaine's reciprocity ideas at this time? Reciprocity is as distinctly opposed to the tariff for revenue idea as it is to free trade. It may be made to fit in with protection, but it cannot be harmonized with the free trade theory or a tariff for revenue policy. The Republican idea of reciprocity is an arrangement whereby we admit non-competing articles from other countries free of duty in return for allowing certain articles produced in this country to enter other countries free of tax or impost. It is a policy utterly antagonistic to the Democratic theory, which is that the tariff is purely a fiscal question. It has for its basic idea the encouragement of domestic production and expansion of foreign trade. The objection to the Cuban reciprocity treaty was that it admitted competitive articles—sugar, tobacco and sub-tropical fruits—either free of duty or on payment of a nominal impost. Experience has justified the objection. Exports from Cuba to the United States have enormously increased while the increase in imports from this country has been merely nominal.

Whether the Democrats stand on the Cuban experiment or cling to the traditional theories of the tariff, they are altogether inconsistent in finding fault with the Republican party for not extending reciprocity with other nations.

A Lesson For American Farmers

The gloomy picture Joseph Chamberlain draws of British agriculture under free trade is worthy of particular study by American voters at this time when there is before them a proposition to revise the tariff in the direction of free trade. The Democratic platform denounces protection as "robbery" and robbery is a crime that should be suppressed. Mr. Chamberlain said British agriculture had been crippled by exposing it to the unrestricted competition of the whole world; land values had enormously shrunk, and labor was leaving the farms. The capital of farmers, he said, had fallen one billion dollars. There are now fewer laborers by a million than in 1851, and 13,000,000 people are uncared, while the people of America, Germany and other foreign countries are prosperous and surpassing Great Britain in every line of trade and business. He said that to deny existing conditions was impossible and to ignore them would be criminal.

Mr. Chamberlain makes a striking comparison of the condition of the agricultural industry in England with agriculture in the United States and Germany, both protected countries. He should have added France and Belgium to the list, for the protective system prevails in both countries. Great Britain stands alone as a free trade country, and it stands alone among the great nations of Europe as an example of a waning agriculture and a decreasing producer of food-stuffs. It has been represented that it was necessary to sacrifice the British farmer and landowner to maintain the supremacy of British manufactures and British trade. British trade and manufactures are depressed and declining. Primacy in trade and manufacturing is going to the protected countries where agriculture is prosperous. The British economists of the Cobden school forgot the fundamental law of political economy that the basis of national prosperity is a prosperous and progressive agriculture. They are now waking up to the sinister fact that in ruining the British farmer they have pulled down the pillars of the temple of national prosperity. The empire is in danger of disintegrating and England of being reduced once more to the condition of a third rate island kingdom.

Advertising the Oregon Country

Portland, Oregon, is a great city, a thriving, lusty, steady growing place, building on sure foundations a permanent prosperity, and it has in the Evening Telegram a great paper that never loses an opportunity to advertise the advantages of Portland as a trade center and the variety and extent of the manifold resources of the vast region tributary to the solid old city at the mouth of the Willamette. Recently the Telegram issued a special number for the purpose of advertising the Lewis and Clark Exposition which will be held in Portland next year. Barring too much solid matter, the special was an exceedingly attractive production, containing an immense quantity of interesting information about Portland and the territory drained by the Columbia river. It was profusely illustrated with well executed cuts, the typography clean and the descriptive matter well written and well arranged. It was a striking proof of the greatness and richness of the Oregon country, a region made famous by the Lewis and Clark expedition and Washington Irving's "Astoria."

The Democrats opened their campaign in San Francisco with 700 in the hall. The Republicans opened their campaign with 17,000 pre-ent. Comparison would be odious.

THE FALL GIRL.

A thousand sing the girl of Spring—
Tae maid of fluff and lace,
A thousand more their voices pour
To tell the June bride's grace.
The Summer girl of sun and soil
Occasions rhyming crawl—
And now is due a tribute to
The bonny girl of Fall.

The Fall girl—
In blue or gray or brown;
In blue or gray or brown;
She is arrayed—
She's coming back to town.

We celebrate the graduate
Duties in mull or challis,
The tennis girl with skirts awail,
Evokes a bygone rally,
We softly chant the debutante
At her initial ball.
Where is the lass of him who views
The bonny girl of Fall?

The Fall girl—
The small girl—
In blue or gray or brown;
A rare delight
Unto the slight—
She's coming back to town.

From head to foot she's trim and neat;
Her cheeks are full of color;
That makes the glow the maples show
Seem dim and cold and duller.
Now comes the days of smoke and haze
And distant winters' chill.
The bonny girl of Fall!

The Fall girl—
She's all girl,
In blue or gray or brown,
Or any hue
That's swaggar new—
She's coming back to town.

TEACHER'S PET.

Eight years old and going on nine,
Teacher says I'm doin' fine,
I get my lessons every day
Hardly ever late to say,
To tell the June bride's grace,
Ain't so very happy though,
'Cause the fellows laugh at me,
But Johnny says he likes me,
Takes my side. He knows all right,
I ain't strong enough to fight,
Cause I hurt myself one day
Fallin' off a farmer's sleigh
And the doctor cut my leg
And he made me lie in bed,
And since then I'm awful thin
And gremlin it hurts like sin
When I try to jump and run,
And my eyes git kinder wet
When they call me Teacher's Pet."

Geel! They never talked at war
Till I tumbled off the sleigh,
Wound I looked three kids so quick
That I tried to jump and run,
And I uster dodges and run
As fast as any one,
Now when recess comes on
I jes' wait to hear the gong
Call us back to work a lot
Cause that's all the fun I've got
When the kids play "one o' cat"
I jes' sit and hold the ball
Wishin' I could cork the ball
Like I uster do last Fall
Yesterday when Reddy Joe
Seen me settin' there, he says
"Fellers, look at Teacher's Pet!"
He's afraid to play, you bet,
'Cause he knows I'd smite his face
All around this darn place
Johnny Baker seen me y
And he blacked old Reddy's eye,
And he made him lie in bed,
Gosh, I wish that I could do
Something good for Johnny, he Doesn't do so much for me,
Maybe 'twont be very long
Till my side gits good and strong
If it ever does, I bet,
They won't call me "Teacher's Pet."

Hints for the Ladies.

Colored coats will be more and more worn in the coming season. The bonne femme pelisse in three-quarter length will be made of silk or satin nerve and trimmed with silk embroidery and gull-pure lace. These pelisses are much tucked over the bust, and also in the upper part of the sleeve.

A pretty fashion which has been started of late is that of wearing cockades of colored velvet or ribbon, one on the left side of the corsage rather high up and the other on the right side at the waist line. They are large and are generally of a contrasting color to that of the gown with which they are worn.

Colored cloth costumes are being made for autumn wear with the daintiest little details of lace silk. For instance, if the skirt is of the purple shade called Aubergine the lace silk coat would be of spot silk in a darker hue. These coats are trimmed with tiny straps of velvet and amethyst jeweled buttons.

Many of the lined skirts, as well as those having drop skirts have a bit of featherbone inserted almost anywhere between the waist and the hem so that they stand out slightly and thus keep the skirts from brushing the ankles. If the featherbone is properly covered it will not wear through its casing until the skirt is so worn as to be no longer presentable.

Among the new imported trimmings for the fall and winter season, the opalescent and metallic spangled nets and an odd combination of chenille and net seem to lead in lightweight garnitures. The spangled nets come in black and white and many colors. In the white net the favorite combination seems to be silver or gold paillettes encircling a center of opalescent spangles.

One of the new fall suits sets the keynote of smartness in the narrow waist coat. It is more than a frockpiece set in leather. Of a cinnamon brown wool the coat short on the hips, but dipping deep into a close-fitting rounded basque in back, the suit has no other trimming save this vest of ten leather thickly bedded with gold ball buttons and collar and cuffs of the leather to match.

In Paris, where the 1830 craze started, it is the first to fall into oblivion, and the garments of the period of the "three Louis" will reign the coming autumn and winter. The trapezoidal coat has been varied in treatment and are so picturesque as to appeal to all women, and all save the extremely fat can adapt one of the many variations of the Louis or directoire coats and look as well as in other garments.

Embossed chiffon is a favorite fabric for evening gowns. Many dinner gowns which are being designed for the winter social season are of some dark shade of chiffon, embroidered in a small design. The lightest tint of the same color. These gowns are but little trimmed while the silk frocks for the evening wear are a mass of shirts tucks and puffings, and are frequently adorned with painted lace and trimmed with costly jeweled buttons.

Indications point to the crowning of our heads this year with all manner of velvet and bead headdresses. Turbans of velvet are shown whose one merit is their exceeding richness of appearance, but which cannot save them from a semibarbaric not exactly allied to comfort, where the light-weight chiffon veils, new this year, are used in millinery, the effect is charming and the weight not excessive. Maline and chiffon are used on the brims and shaded roses for adornment.

Better Than Gold.

"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. BALLADE OF THE REAL ESTATE MAN.

When Romulus started to build, Though Remus proceeded to rail, His aid in nowise was chilled; He knew that his scheme could not fail. He'd a lot to do, and he made it prevail; But Rome wasn't built in a day.

The masons were wholly unskilled, The huts, they all of them said, All unbecomingly and unfiled, Nor of a magnificent scale. There wasn't a courthouse or jail, For years, I have heard people say, It grew to be simply a "wail," But Rome wasn't built in a day.

Full soon all the cities were settled, The lots had a wonderful sale, The houses were of them filled, The whole population was male. But wives, if there's truth in the tale, They kidnapped one sunshiny day, We're plenty in fair Oldenale, But Rome wasn't built in a day.

L'ENVOI.
Prince, if you should buy, I'll go bail You'll find the investment will pay We're new-yes, the built in a day, But Rome wasn't built in a day.

Just so long as proud mothers demand smart dresses for their children and can obtain them at such reasonable prices as the Lace House asks, just so long will our children's section be popular. ## MANY RALLIES TO BE HELD

AMENDED LIST OF MEETINGS ARRANGED FOR BY REPUBLICANS.

At the meeting of the joint committee from the Republican County and Congressional District Committees in headquarters, over Oakland Bank of Savings, instructions were drawn and forwarded to the several members of both committees directing them, to immediately make preparations for Republican meetings to be held in their respective sections and to personally superintend the holding of the same and housing of the speakers.

This step was taken to prevent the deferring of these preparations until the last moment, thus causing disappointment and doing injury to the cause.

Several changes were made in the date and place of holding meetings and the corrected list of engagements is as follows: This evening, Benicia: October 6, University of California, among the speakers being Senator J. R. Knowland, Republican candidate for Congress; Friday, October 7, San Leandro, when speeches will be made by Senator Knowland, Dr. C. L. Tidale of Alameda, and George W. Reed; Saturday, October 8, Concord; Monday, October 10, Dixon; Tuesday, October 11, Alameda; Saturday, October 15, Suisun; Monday, October 17, Walnut Creek; Tuesday, October 18, Berkeley; Wednesday, October 19, Niles; Thursday, October 20, Livermore; Saturday, October 22, Antioch; October 24, Rio Vista; October 25, East Oakland; October 26, Pleasanton; October 27, Martinez; October 28, East Oakland; October 29, Vacaville; October 31, Mission San Jose; November 1, Centerville; November 2, Crockett; November 3, Vallejo; November 4, Webster street, Alameda; November 5, Oakland.

CHILD NOT ADOPTED.
Rudolph Franke, the well known picnic manufacturer, states that his son was not adopted by the late Louis Wynn and Mrs. Wynn. Mr. Franke states that the child has a good home in the Wynn family and he has been paying his board. The Wynns had no children, and it was their desire that Mr. Franke allow the boy remain at their home.

HEAR LECTURE IN A CHURCH

Traveling for thousands of miles and not going outside of the four walls of a church building is a novel journey, but it was the journey, nevertheless, taken by the large number of people who last evening attended the "missionary tour of the world" at the Union Street Presbyterian Church. It was one of a number of unique ideas planned by the missionary society of the church.

The audience was divided into groups of ten persons each and to each group a guide was assigned. Through the Oriental settings, forming a beautiful panorama, the crowds went. The tourists left San Francisco for Tokyo, Japan, via Honolulu; from thence taking the following route: Penik, China; Siam, Madras, India; Pondicherry, South America; returning via steamer "Need" to the Custom House by San Francisco. A short time was spent in each by the tourists, being entertained delightfully by natives in Oriental costume.

Fifteen young ladies of the University of California, U. W. C. A., acted as guides.

UNITED SPANISH WAR VETERANS.
A regular meeting of Camp General F. H. Lincoln No. 11, Department of California, U. W. V., will be held at Foresters' Hall, Thirteenth and Clay streets on Thursday evening, October 6.

An enjoyable evening is promised the members of the camp, their mothers, wives, sisters and friends at the social and the Ladies' Aid on October 20.

KNIGHT ON THE STUMP.

California Orator Delivers a Stirring Address in East.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 6.—Temple Hall was crowded tonight by every class to hear Secretary of the Treasury Shaw and George A. Knight of California address the delegates attending the National Republican League Convention. Knight said in part: "Behind Judge Parker as advisers are men that the people of the Nation would not trust in any public capacity. Their private interests are of such a character that they would put us low and the wellbeing of the country to further their own private and selfish ends. When Mr. Parker ran for Judge of the Appellate Court in 1897 he had such a delicate sense of honor that he told the people of New York before his nomination that he wanted them to know that he had voted for Brannan, and free silver in 1896, and he did not think it was fair for him to be nominated at that time. How must his conscience have been blunted when he entertained Presidential aspirations. Three years ago Mr. Bryan asked me to fill the question, 'How does Judge Parker stand upon the money question?' Mr. Hill replied that he did not know. 'How does he stand upon the tariff?' Hill replied that he had never heard him discuss it. And in this Springfield attitude Judge Parker remained quiet until after he was nominated, when a high sense of honor took possession of him and he sent the famous gold telegram. In any person other than the candidate for the Presidency of the United States this would be termed duplicity and not a virtue. I found, but for candidates for Presidential honor we must, for the sake of public opinion at least, refrain from too vigorous comment."

Henry G. Davis is 8 years old. There is not a corporation in the United States of America that needs a live, energetic man to see it in any capacity that would give him employment today. The candidate for the Vice-Presidency should have all the qualities of youth, intelligence, energy and ability that go to make him qualified for the office. President Roosevelt has shown that at the time might come when the Vice-Presidency should be called upon to take up the duties of that high office. Henry Gassaway Davis would not give a man 81 years old employment in any of the corporations with which he is connected, and why should he expect the people of this Nation to put him in a position where he would deny others under like circumstances?"

The speaker then eulogized President Roosevelt and Senator Frank. The convention, after adopting an appropriate resolution, adjourned until tomorrow as a mark of respect to the memory of General Sherman. After the adjournment the resolutions committee was announced. It includes the following delegates: California, C. W. Pendleton; Kansas, H. H. Keece.

ROOSEVELT'S RIFLE TO SLOCUM INQUIRY

NEW YORK, October 6.—A letter from President Roosevelt's secretary has been read before a meeting of 500 relatives of persons who died on the excursion steamer General Slocum. It was in reply to one sent by the steamer line last week denouncing the action of the local steamboat inspectors in placing the blame for the disaster on the crew and passengers, and asking for immediate executive action.

Secretary Lodge in reply was to the effect that the commission appointed by the President is expediting its report and that "absolute justice will be done."

TO CONFER DEGREE.
Brooklyn Lodge, No. 225, F. and A. M., to East Oakland will confer the first degree Tuesday evening, October 11.

HAPPIEST MAN IN UNCLE SAM'S NAVY.

"I am the happiest man in Uncle Sam's Navy. I must have got the pills from always sitting on the guns, for I have to get on them to be conferred, and one of each box of pills is the after turret."

"I could not do any work when I had the pills, my salivary glands did it for me. I carried them with me and every day there is no man aboard the ship in better condition than I am, and I can certainly thank Pyramid Pile Cure for the world of good it has done me. I used so many different medicines and spent lots of money until I used this remedy; it is the only one of the whole that did me any good."

"The first box nearly cured me, and I don't think I ever felt better in my life, that I thought I got the rest stuff at last. To make sure I used a number of boxes also two boxes of Pyramid Pile Cure and one of each box of Pills and Pyramid Pile Cure left that I suffer in case I meet anyone that is a sufferer of piles. I thank Pyramid Pile Cure a million times." J. J. A. Koester, U. S. Flagship Kearsarge.

The wonderful cures effected by this remedy are subject for remark among members of the medical profession everywhere. A little book describing the causes and cure of piles is published by the Pyramid Pile Co., Marshall, Mich., and we advise every sufferer to write for it. It is a singular fact that one out of every four suffers from this distressing complaint, and another peculiar feature is that it is no respecter of persons, atacking both those of high and low degree, the laborer and the millionaire, the scrub woman and the lady of fashion. We have pleasure in recommending Pyramid Pile Cure to all such as it possesses merit and a bad condition to all sufferers generally for the low price of fifty cents a package a prompt and speedy cure is easily within the reach of everyone.

NEWS FROM BEHIND THE LOCAL WICKETS.

What the Various Lodges Are Doing in the City—Social Events Are Planned.

LYON RELIEF CORPS.

The members of the F. C. L. Club of Lyon's Relief Corp., No. 6, W. R. C., will give a prize whist party on Tuesday evening, October 11th, at Loring Hall, Eleventh and Clay street.

LADIES OF THE MACCABEES.

The Commanders' and Past Commanders' Association of Northern California, was entertained in Oakland last Friday by the ladies of Argonaut and Oakland Hives, at the Maccabee Temple.

The meeting for the members of the Association was called at 11 o'clock and adjourned in time for luncheon, which was served in the banquet room to the members of the association and all visiting ladies.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon a meeting for all ladies of the Maccabees was called. A program, consisting of vocal and instrumental music and readings, had been prepared by the committee and was much enjoyed by all in attendance. Following the program a question-box was opened, which was of great value to those interested in the welfare of the order. Through this medium many questions were brought up for discussion of which will materially assist all members.

The regular review of Oakland Hive No. 14 was held in the evening at 8.30. A number of the visitors of the morning and afternoon meetings remained for this session, at which time a number of ladies were initiated into the order.

The members of Oakland Hive are planning a whist tournament for the evening of the 11th. The proceeds of this tournament will be used for the benefit of a distressed member. Tickets can be secured from any member of the Hive.

Invitations for the tenth annual ball of Oakland Tent No. 17 and Oakland Hive No. 14, to be given at Reed Hall on the evening of the 25th, will be ready tomorrow evening.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Two applications for membership were received by Oakland Lodge No. 103, K. of P., at its session on Thursday, September 29. Professor Charles Moon was elected musical director for the current term. Visitors from Colorado, Ohio, Minnesota and New York entertained under the head of good of the order.

At this evening's assemblage Liberty Company No. 11, U. R., will pay the lodge a fraternal visit. The initiatory of page rank will be conferred, and the conclusion of which refreshments will be served in the adjoining banquet hall. A literary program has also been prepared. Past Chancellor E. D. Gans, the popular fraternal eloquist, has kindly consented to render Edgar Poe's masterpiece, "The Raven." The versatile entertainer, Brother Frank Covey of Stockton, is also listed for the evening. Visiting members of the order are cordially invited to participate, those from sister grand domains especially.

REBEKAH LODGE.

Oakland Rebekah Lodge, No. 16, I. O. O. F., will confer the initiatory degree on seven candidates on October 15 instead of the 8th. No. 18 will give a public entertainment on October 29. The committee is planning a hallowe'en party, one of the attractions to be a genuine gypsy fortune teller. Full particulars of the entertainment will be given later. The drill team is requested to be present at the next meeting.

ORDER OF RED MEN.

During the past moon there have been seven additions to the Uncas Tribe, No. 137, Improved Order of Red Men, in such citizens as E. C. Bush, H. W. Clark, Dr. D. B. Channell, H. W. Fulcher, W. J. Scott, J. L. and

R. A. Smith. With timber such as these it is the intention of this tribe to build a substantial and enduring in fraternal circles.

During the last few months a degree team has been organized under the supervision of Brother Hampton of Cherokee Tribe, which is now fast approaching an efficient state. A new set of regalia has been purchased and numerous other advances have been made so that this tribe enters upon the closing months of this great and fully equipped for a successful campaign in the pale face nation.

CALANTHE TEMPLE.

The last meeting of Calanthe Temple, No. 6, Rathbone Sisters, was an interesting one. Several sisters contributed to the good of the order, including a song by Past Chief Corn B. Langridge, which was well rendered and received.

The committee for the whist tournament, consisting of Sisters May Hawking, Anna Brackley and Clara Naegle, reported progress. Said tournament takes place Friday evening, October 14, at Woodmen Hall. Handsome prizes will be given.

One knight and two ladies will be initiated into the mysteries of this order Friday evening, October 7. The degree team is requested to be in attendance.

FRATERNAL BROTHERHOOD.

Oakland Lodge, No. 123, Fraternal Brotherhood, held a brief business session in lower Maple Hall last Thursday night, at which nine new members were initiated into the order. The membership received. After the routine of business the members adjourned to the upper hall, where the regular bi-monthly open meeting was held. This was the usual large crowd in attendance and a pleasant evening was enjoyed. During the course of the evening the monthly distribution of the Black Book of the Order took place. Beautiful hand-painted plates, was awarded to Mrs. Gamboni. A half dozen silver spoons went to Mrs. Parrott. Mrs. Bourne won a cut glass dish and Mrs. Deveny a stein.

At tonight's meeting there will be an unusually large group for initiation, at which the drill team will officiate. At the conclusion of this and other business of the lodge there will be a "shirt waist" party on the upper floor for members only.

The last Thursday evening in this month will be devoted to a hallowe'en party for members only. Extensive preparations are being made for this affair, which will be the most unique and entertaining event ever given by this lodge.

The whist club of the lodge is progressing famously, and is one of the most popular features connected with this organization. All members can join it without extra cost. Handsome and costly prizes are given once every month.

MACCABEES' ANNUAL BALL.

Oakland Tent, No. 17, K. O. F. M., held its regular weekly meeting last Monday evening. One candidate was initiated, and declared a Sir Knight, making a total of 53 members in this tent. A boom has been started and the knights propose to have 700 members before January 1.

The ninth annual ball under the auspices of Oakland Tent, No. 17 and Oakland Hive, No. 14, Knights and Ladies of the Maccabees, will be given in Reed's Hall at Thirteenth and Harrison streets.

ORDER OF RED MEN.

During the past moon there have been seven additions to the Uncas Tribe, No. 137, Improved Order of Red Men, in such citizens as E. C. Bush, H. W. Clark, Dr. D. B. Channell, H. W. Fulcher, W. J. Scott, J. L. and

Wednesday evening, October 26. Invitations will be prepared from J. L. Thig, 429 Ninth street; Mrs. Edna Patton, 850 Jones street; or from members of either organization. The committee is determined to make this the greatest social event in the history of Oakland and Maccabees. The most music obtainable has been engaged and about 1500 invitations will be issued.

Great Commander S. W. Hall has called the annual convention of Northern California record-keepers to meet in Maccabee Temple, the city at 9 o'clock a. m. Monday, October 21, Oakland Tent will entertain and arrange them in the evening of the same date and every member of the tent is requested to be present. The great commander has assumed the committee of arrangements, composed of Sir Knights E. S. Smith, A. L. Brunner and William Kreiss, that a large quantity of the record-keepers of North and Central California will attend the convention.

Visiting members from other tents will be welcome in the evening and it is hoped that each tent in Alameda county will furnish a large delegation.

PLAN HALLOWEEN PARTY.
Piedmont Parlor, No. 87, N. D. G. W., held a largely attended and interesting meeting last Thursday evening at Ben Hur Hall, 1379 Broadway. Several members were added to the roll, and more applications have been received, indicating the interest that is being manifested in this lodge.

Piedmont Parlor is making extensive preparations for a Halloween party to be given the last Thursday night in October.

There will be a series of whist tournaments given by the parlor, the first to be held November 3. Further notice will be given of the other later, and also regarding the prizes.

UNITED WORKMEN MEET.

Pacific Lodge No. 7 meets this evening in Fraternal Hall, 1176 Washington street. Last Thursday evening at the close of the lodge Brother Past Master Hulme entertained the members and their families with stereopticon views of sights and scenes in and about the city of London, where he spent some time a few years ago.

The most startling thing in A. O. U. W. circles is the announcement in the official organ of the discovery of those having the identity of the person who has been furnishing a certain old line company with the names of the members of the order in the cities from the bay. In confessing his guilt he admitted that he was paid a large sum of money. It is not yet known if there is any law under which he can be prosecuted.

Preparations are being made to celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of the order by Pacific Lodge No. 7; Oakland Tent, No. 17 and No. 4, D. of H. The affair will take place in the evening of October 27 in Fraternal Hall. The new assessment plan has now been adopted by all but seven grand lodge jurisdictions. These seven have not yet taken measures, and it is reasonable to expect that when they do meet the plan will be adopted as it is working better than was hoped for. The reports show this in the first six months, over $200,000 having been accumulated in the lodge funds.

Escaped An Awful Fate.

Mr. H. Haggans of Melbourne, Fla., writes: "My doctor told me I had Consumption and nothing could be done. I was given up to die. I had a cure of a free trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. I am now on the road to recovery and owe all to Dr. King's New Discovery. It surely saved my life." This great cure is guaranteed for all throat and lung disease by Dr. King's New Discovery, Seventh and Broadway, Thirteenth and Washington streets. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottles free.

NEWS FROM FIELD AND CLUB

FOOTBALL PROSPECTS
FOR SEASON ARE GOOD

Occidentals Will Have Strong Team--Game
Sunday Afternoon.

BY THE WAYFARER.

The season 1904-1905 will be opened Sunday by a game at Freeman's Park between the Albion Rovers and the Oakland Hornets.

The game of association football has made remarkable strides in the West. Even the great Rugby game is losing interest, and the time will come when this rather questionable game of football will be conspicuous by its absence, to be replaced by the more scientific and gentlemanly game of association.

The "Wayfarer" has the pleasure of introducing to TRIBUNE readers today Thomas Lydon, captain of the Occidental team of San Francisco. Lydon is, without doubt, the most finished forward seen here since the game started. He is one of those players who reminds one of what they have seen in First League football across the "pond." He is a fine dribbler and a dead shot and his agility in dodging with the ball places him in many a good position to score goals. He was the means of winning the league for the Thistles last year, but like a few others he preferred a change, and the Occidental Club is to be congratulated at having secured his services. Other new faces in the Occidental team will be Mathewson, Goodlet and Taylor, all three of whom played for the Albion Rovers last season. The club has secured private grounds at Ninth and Bryant streets, San Francisco, and the boys have been practicing continually and all are ready for battle.

During the last few weeks the Albion Rovers' management have been busy preparing for the opening of the season. All the players signed up by the committee have been on view at the practice. The impression formed by me is that the club has secured a capital set of players, and it seems that it should be very difficult matter to select eleven, as every one is good enough for league honors. No effort has been spared to make the team as strong as possible, and there is every likelihood that an even better position than last year will be secured in the league.

"Principio" Churchill has drawn out of the Rovers to go to Alameda Eagles--A "kicker" of no mean order, he is sure to get it in among the Eagles. Alas! the Albions have lost a good man; their loss could be the Eagles gain. The game Sunday will be a good one. All right and Freeman's Park will look very comfortable and the scene will be added to by the presence of the usual feminine crowd, with their autumn head-gear. Ladies are admitted free; gentlemen the small sum of ten cents. The whistle will blow at 2:30, and both teams will be at their strongest.

FRESHMAN TEAM
PLAYING.

BERKELEY "BABIE" LINED UP
AGAINST SANTA CLARA
THIS AFTERNOON.

The Berkeley Freshman team is lined up against Santa Clara for its last small game of the season to day. After this week practice games with the second eleven and Varsity will be the schedule and the Freshmen will be ready for their meet with Stanford a week from Saturday.

Today's game will probably be the best game of the season. The team from Santa Clara is an especially strong aggregation of men and will put up a stiff fight from start to finish. The team defeated the Stanford Freshmen 12-0 two weeks ago and will be anxious to hang a fresh scalp to its belt.

Although the Freshmen played listless ball last Tuesday, it was evidently one of their off days and they can no doubt play a faster and more consistent game of ball than was exhibited in its play of day before yesterday. The second half of the game demonstrated that the team can walk through any aggression against them if they will only hit the ball hard and fast until they are compelled to. For the past few days the naughty-eight team has been lining up against the Berkeley High team, the second eleven or the second Freshman team. Many of its faults have been materially helped by this practice.

Twitwell is perhaps the most steady man on the team. His work has been hard and consistent since the beginning of the season. He is a little head on back and doesn't get a sufficient head of steam on before he hits the ball. This combined with the fact that the line doesn't clear with a violent vigor makes it hard to gain much. Golder is the most brilliant man behind the line. He runs as fast as a good gain and he is quick to take an opening. He is a little too light to penetrate the line for many yards, but he is a good player. He is a direct player but gets confused. He allows himself to be fooled on fake plays, which greatly retards his good playing at defense. On the offensive he is telling at backs and feet on run.

Kendall and Herriot have been in the race a quarter. Herriot is a good man, but since he has been back on the field has played at end, owing to the extraordinary scarcity of good material for that position. Kendall's kick field work is sure and quick and his generalship good. He is not quick enough on passes, however, and has a tendency to fumble the ball.

Jordan, Towne and Har is out for end. Jordan is a good player, but he is not quick enough on passes, however, and has a tendency to fumble the ball. Towne and Har is out for end. Jordan is a good player, but he is not quick enough on passes, however, and has a tendency to fumble the ball.

Allen is a steady man at center. Barnicot is working him hard at the position. Foster and Kern at guards are hard, steady players and will give good work. Riley and Richardson play an aggressive game at tackles.

BORROWS $10; HERE'S A STORY HAS LUCK ON JEFF.

THIS MAN WAS BROKE; NOW
HE'S A WEALTHY
BOOKMAKER.

Three weeks ago Al Robinson was broke. To-day he is making one of the biggest books in the East and he has established a reputation for knocking down favorites that has waited him along the high road to success until now his bank roll is in five figures. He may be broke again before the end of the racing season, but he will have a million for every dollar of what he has accumulated and in his present streak of luck he is far more likely to break out than go broke himself.

Robinson, who is better known in all the Eastern betting enclosures as "Hawshaw," borrowed a ten-dollar note, and that solitary ten was the foundation of the bank roll that has grown to proportions that enabled him to lay the top price against the favorite, when he thinks he has an ace in the hole. It was with this lone ten that "Hawshaw" drifted into a faro bank, and when he had converted it into ten blue chips he fought the game with a cleverness that saw him $1,000 winner at the end of a moderately short sitting.

At the close of the Brighton meeting, and the scene shifted to Gravesend, "Hawshaw" decided that while it was easy on the ground it ought to be easier making the other fellow do the guessing. He put up a stake in the field enclosure. He has been just as successful dealing as he was playing, and from the first day he has yet to record a losing day. Recently the bank roll has increased in girth to the tune of $5,000 when Out of Reach was returned the winner in the last race. He had taken all the ostrich to show that was offered, and while he held out both Santa Catalina and Jennie McCabe in his book, he played them from the ground.

Not so bad for a borrowed ten. And "Hawshaw" says he is not through yet by any means.

THIS "BOOKIE" TO RETIRE.

CHICAGO'S GAMBLING KING, TEN-
NES, TO START RACING.
STABLE.

Mont Tennes, one of Chicago's well known "gambling kings," has announced his intention of retiring from the bookmaking business. He will start a racing stable, and has already bought Big Ben and Mansard from "Boots" Durnell.

The surprise of the day at Worth yesterday occurred when Don Domo came under the wire before Nannie Hodge, the favorite in the third race. The "Gray Streak" made a good start and won from the Darden mare handily.

Fairman won the fifth race in a gallop. Lieutenant Rice outran Arab May in the last event. Clint de Witt managed to squeak through ahead of Baywood in the second and Freebooter beat Dixie and Dixie led in the first.

Some high scores have been placed on the blackboard at the Oakland Alleys, on Thirteenth street, as follows: H. G. Cramer, 225; duck pins--F. Finch 127, A. Boswell 105, O. Overman 127, A. Case 111.

The Eagles will meet to-night at the Palace, and will roll the regular three games.

Kuhny Club will bowl this evening at the Oakland Alleys.

3 HORSES-PICK
A WINNER.

WHICH DO YOU THINK IS THE BEST RACER AT ST. LOUIS.

Which is the best of the three best horses that have been campaigned in St. Louis this season?

If First Mason (1:30 1/4), Six Shooter (1:40) and Bas d'Or (1:40), were to meet in a mile race with equal weights, equal jockeys and even "racing luck" which thoroughbred would be first to thrust its nose past the winning wire? This is a question which produces as great a variety of opinion as can be imagined and should the seemingly impossible happen and the three horses meet, a "ton of money" would be bet on each.

But to many experts it seems that, despite the slight difference of a quarter of a second in the time made, the contest would be almost wholly between First Mason and Six Shooter. While William Murky's handsomeness, chestnut, Bas d'Or, is the present undisputed thoroughbred of the St. Louis tracks, a digestive study of his racing record this season shows that the other two "cracks" always held him safe. While he has run some exceedingly poor races, Bas d'Or on the other hand, has also run much better races than even First Mason or Six Shooter were credited with while they were being campaigned at St. Louis. Bas d'Or has stepped nine furlongs twice in 1:53 first carrying 114 pounds to victory and next shouldering 117 pounds. Horses like that shouldering 117 pounds and Jack Young, Just So, Tobby Toss and Boaster finished behind him on both occasions. Bas d'Or has also beat Flying Torpedo and Miss Mae Day in decisive struggles.

THOROUGHBREDS
BACK EAST.

HIGH CLASS OF HORSES ON THE EASTERN TRACKS THIS YEAR.

The highest class of horses seen at St. Louis since 1895 and 1896 have been racing over the Fair Grounds and Delmar tracks this season. Clifford, Buck Massie, Flying Dutchman and Yo Tamblen were campaigned there in 1895 and 1896. Then the St. Louis tracks degenerated into an asylum, cast off from the big stables, which went East, and turkeys had to pay $1 at the gates to see skates like Pinoche, Hottentot and Found masquerade as stake horses in the historic classics of the old Fair Ground.

Just think of Pinoche, Found and Hottentot enrolled as winners of the glorious Club Members' handicap! It took Wadsworth's life to beat Ahola in the first Club Members' and Yo Tamblen when at her best just did stir Ray S. by a nostril in the third renewal of the stake.

Clifford Morello and Buck Massie were brought to St. Louis to win the Club Members' handicap in the days when St. Louis enjoyed racing that compared with the sport served up on the metropolitan tracks.

Then St. Louis degenerated with an era of Hottentots, Pinoches and Found. After being compelled to consider the respective merits of such skates in stake races, it was quite a relief this season to have horses that were few if any horses on the Chicago tracks good enough to beat Six Shooter when he rounds to his best form. Judged, Cantrell, Edgardo, Orpheum and Oudonard were winning stakes on the St. Louis tracks in 1902 and 1903. This quartet of platers have been trained at St. Louis again this season, but not one of them has succeeded so far in winning even a cheap selling race. It has taken a pretty fair bag to earn his oats this season.

It was a hot day in Rome when it got up to Nero.

OAKLAND LOSES WOMEN'S GOLF BIG AUTO RACE
GAME NO. 2 TOURNEY. SATURDAY

JACKSON PITCHES A GOOD CON-TEST BUT LUCK IS AGAINST US.

Mr. Jackson of Texas, occupied the pitcher's position for Oakland yesterday, while Mr. Whalen was prominent in a like job for San Francisco. Score, Oakland 2, San Francisco 3, but it wasn't Jackson's fault.

The man from Texas pitched a good game, a winning game, but luck was against the Commuters and they lost. Harris worked little McKune behind the bat yesterday. The lad caught good ball.

Seattle 21, Portland 3. That was the score up North yesterday afternoon. Roach broke his finger early in the sixth inning and Ira Hastings was sent in to pitch. Then the trouble commenced. Hastings pitched like a schoolboy, and it was only a question of how many runs would Seattle make. When Hastings was hit freely the remainder of the Portland team went to pieces.

Los Angeles defeated Tacoma yesterday afternoon by a score of 4 to 3. Not a run was earned. Yesterday's defeat was the first Tacoma has suffered in seven games. Fitzgerald was on the bring line for Tacoma, while Gray pitched for Los Angeles.

The National Baseball Commission has decided that Pitcher Roach, who was released by the commission from Butte last May and recently declared eligible to play with Portland, has reinstated the player.

OLD TIME MEN IN TOWN

Jimmy Sullivan and Bernice McKay have arrived in Oakland from Atlantic City, where they have been playing in the Southern League. The fans will remember that Sullivan caught for Oakland when the team won the pennant. He has been playing first for Atlantic City. McKay pitched for Oakland a while last year. He played third station for the Atlantic this year, but pitched one game. He reports that the foul strike rule is in force in the Southern League and is causing considerable adverse comment for the reason that the batting averages have no chance to get fat.

Both Sullivan and McKay will probably return to the Southern League next season. The championship this year was won by Memphis.

PAIRINGS HAVE BEEN MADE AND CHAMPIONSHIP PLAY
COMMENCES.

NEW YORK, October 6.—Pairings and the time of starting in the qualifying round for the women's golf championship, which begins on Monday at Philadelphia, have been made by the committee of the United States Golf Association.

The first pair to tee up will be Miss Page Schwarzwald of Dyker Meadow and Mrs. Elliott Rogers of the Brighton Country Club, Allegheny, Pa., who are scheduled to start at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Miss Lottie Dred, the British champion, will have Miss Maud K. Westmore as partner. Miss Margaret Curtis of the Essex County Club has Mrs. Herbert Mann, the San Francisco champion, as her partner, while Miss "Johnny" Carpenter of Chicago is paired with Lillian Eddle of the Riverton Club.

J. H. McCollough won the title of champion of the senior class for 1904 yesterday afternoon in the interclass championship tournament at Berkeley.

Frank Doramus, the runner-up, made a strong bid for the honor, but after the first two sets he had little to say about the match, for McCollough took six straight games, defeated Robert Varlet in straight sets yesterday in the junior tennis championship tournament. Neither player was in his best form.

LEVY'S HORSES
ARE HERE

Accompanied by their trainer, F. Earnshaw, the thoroughbreds in stable of L. Levy, the well-known horseman of this city, have arrived here from Seattle, where they have been racing.

In the stable are Sallus, Leach and Cracker. Trainer Earnshaw has developed a present intention of Mr. Levy to enter the racer in the Burns' Handicap to be run here this winter. The young son of Trainer Earnshaw has been riding Levy's horses and the lad has proved that he has a fine head and the knack of taking fair advantage of course openings. He will ride here this winter.

CARS TO MAKE 300-MILE JOUR-
NEY OVER 30-MILE COURSE
ON LONG ISLAND.

Over a triangular road course on Long Island, beginning at 6 a. m. on Saturday, October 8, fourteen or fifteen powerful automobiles, representing the motor industry of four nations, will meet in a 300-mile contest for a trophy offered by W. K. Vanderbilt Jr., the holder of the present world's record of 39 seconds and a member of the A. A. R. Racing Board, under whose auspices the race is being conducted.

It is the first great automobile road race ever held in America, and the racing machines named and the drivers that will pilot them on the long journey is a guarantee that the contest will compare favorably with the great races of Europe.

The United States, Germany, France and Italy are the four nations whose representatives will battle for supremacy, and with cars ranging in horse power from thirty to ninety, some phenomenal speed should be supplied. Although the race is named for the 300-mile journey, the course makes it improbable that more than a mile-a-minute pace can be maintained. Although eighteen machines are named to start, not more than fifteen are expected to start, insuring sport of the gilt-edge order.

J. BRITT WANTS
ABOUT ALL

WOULD HAVE COMFORTABLE
SUM, WIN OR LOSE, IN FIGHT
WITH GANS.

Willie Britt notified Al Herford of the terms demanded by Brother Jimmy in the event of a match between J. Edward and Gans. Unless Herford objects to the demands it is possible that the two cracks will meet within the next thirty days.

The two managers will meet in the office of the Yosemite Club for the purpose of arranging the details to-night. Willie Britt figures that Jimmy is the drawing card, and consequently has demanded that he shall receive 75 per cent if he wins and 50 per cent if he loses. While if Gans wins he will receive 50 per cent and if he loses will get 25 per cent. The weight stipulated is 133 pounds ringside.

U. C. INTERCLASS
FIELD-DAY

In order to more thoroughly stimulate the interest of California track men and to arouse enthusiasm for fall training at the University there will be an interclass day this fall. Two weeks after the football season is over. One hundred and twenty-five men have signed up for fall training this season and things are going along with a snap heretofore unheard of. The field day will enable the trainer and Assistant Track Captain Clifford to get some sort of line-up on the men in the lower classes.

The following, an extremely important part of track work, had been in jeopardy by the decline before the opening of this season, and revival of interest in fall work on the track will undoubtedly prove a factor in the next California-Stanford meet. Two years ago fall training was inaugurated at Stanford. The last two years Stanford, for the only two times in her history, has carried off a "victory" in her track meet with California. The coincidence is striking if not conclusive. The present enthusiasm shows that California has taken the lesson so dearly learned to heart.

Assistant Track Captain Clifford had the following to say in regard to the work that will be done. "On the whole, the bunch of new men who have turned out are above the average. The distance men are learning form and pace as well as general development. One notable thing about the work this term is the number of sophomores who have turned out. There are almost as many second-year men as freshmen. It is a good sign."

The following old men have turned out regularly on Mondays and Thursdays. Clifford in his work: Wilcox, Chaplin, Edwards, Mishler, Moody, Gilmore and Fred.

The following men have not yet earned the privilege to wear a big track "C," but their chances are good. Judging from their present work:

Distance: H. Butler, '05; C. Craig, '07; H. Clifford, '07; A. De Munnio, '08; H. Darling, '07; B. Lawkins, '08; W. A. Scherer, '05; F. K. Test, '08, and Meiss, '08.

Sprints: A. Casper, '05; F. L. Kieberger, '08; S. L. Schwartz, '05; H. V. Wintham, '08, and B. E. Nestor, '05, and C. O. Preston, '08.

440-yard dash--S. Houghlin, '06, and Hurdies--R. A. Balzari, '07; F. Catter, '07; H. T. Junk, '05, and J. N. Richter, '06.

Jumps--W. S. Adams, '05; P. Magerstadt, '08, and J. E. Neighbo, '08.

Pole vault--J. B. Butler, '04, and F. L. Kieberger, '08.
